

Erika Tribuzi

Associate

Overview

Start-ups and established businesses alike turn to Erika for sound advice on a variety of corporate law matters, tapping into her experience in areas such as securities, capital markets, financing, real estate, and international issues. She also has experience helping entrepreneurs refine their pitches to investors, business plans, and growth strategies. Additionally, she leverages her passion for digital technology to provide strategic and pragmatic guidance for clients who are involved in cryptocurrencies and blockchain technologies. While in law school, Erika interned for the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), gaining a unique perspective that informs her approach to clients' legal matters.

Education

- Indiana University Maurer School of Law, Juris Doctor (J.D.), 2018;
- Grand Valley State University, Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.), Bachelor of Science (B.S.); magna cum laude, 2015; Marketing and Legal Studies

Related News

PUBLICATION

October 2, 2019
SEC Adopts “Test-the-Waters” Accommodation for All Issuers

PUBLICATION

July 15, 2019
A Glimpse into the Future of Token Offerings with First SEC-Approved Public Token Offering?

emtribuzi@michaelbest.com

Madison

T. 608.416.1696

Legal Assistant

Michele Leighton

mpleighton@michaelbest.com

T. 608.283.0120