

Stephen Aguilar

Senior Counsel

Overview

Stephen helps entrepreneurs launch and grow their companies, from planning at the earliest stages to funding to growth and scale-up. He provides practical advice along every step of the way, counseling clients on key transactional and business matters including entity formation, corporate governance, private equity and venture capital investments, contracts and agreements, brand protection, acquisitions and divestures, employment issues including immigration, and when needed, dispute resolution.

He represents clients from a diverse array of industries, including technology, consumer products, manufacturing, energy, and media. Stephen is dedicated partner to all of his clients, and strives to provide actionable, often innovative, solutions to achieve their objectives.
